DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1, 2, 6-14, 16-18 and 27-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform to current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors. Take for instance the following examples:

- It is unclear how the term “adapted to receive and position a second bar relative to a first bar already connected” (line 4 of claim 1) is meant to limit the claim. How is one to determine if a bar is “already connected” or merely connected? Does applicant mean to claim a method step dictating a specific order of connection? Is the first bar meant to structurally limit the claim or merely be an intended use for the seat section?
- It is unclear if the “bars” (line 5 of claim 2) are meant to structurally limit the claim merely serve as an intended use for the assembly. The “bars” are recited as mere intended use in line 5 but are positively recited elsewhere in the claims (e.g., line 9 of claim 2). For purposes of examination the claims are taken without combination.
- It is unclear how applicant's invention can effect “a position blocking the seat section form insertion or removal” (lines 8-9 of claim 2). Isn't it the “bars” that are blocked from insertion or removal? If not, what element is the "seat section" blocked from removal from?

- It is unclear if the term "a bar" (line 11 of claim 2) is meant to refer to one of the previously recited "bars" (line 5 of claim 2) or to an additional bar. This ambiguous recitation of "a bar" is recited elsewhere throughout the claims (line 3 of claim 6, line 3 of claim 7, etc.).
- It is unclear what previously recited element the pronoun "its" (line 5 of claim 6) is meant to refer to.

For the reasons mentioned above a great deal of confusion and uncertainty exists as to the proper interpretation of the claim limitations. In accordance with the MPEP § 2173.06, rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102 or 35 U.S.C. 103 follows based on the examiner's best understanding of the claim scope. The applicant is strongly urged to amend the entirety of the claims (not only the examples listed above) to conform to current U.S. practice.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 6-14, 16-18 and 27-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bazeley (U.S. Patent 1,672,867).

Bazeley appears to disclose all of the applicants elected claim limitations as best understood by the examiner (see 35 U.S.C. § 112 2nd paragraph rejections above).

Claims 1, 2, 6-14, 16-18 and 27-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Simons (U.S. Patent 271,141).

Simons appears to disclose all of the applicants elected claim limitations as best understood by the examiner (see 35 U.S.C. § 112 2nd paragraph rejections above).

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment (i.e., the newly amended claims 1 and 2) necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
